NOTEBOOK—

But dear me, it dilated the pupils of my eyes; made my ear-drums bang out the Battle Hymn of the Republic and puckered my lips to such an extent I looked like a Ubangi native.

I gained ten pounds, hones' to gudness, in six days.

It shure wasn't the calories that counted up, 'cause I didn't have the appetite of a bird.

It's the celluloid from all those capsules, soaked in liquids, that's making me feel, and look as bloated as Humpty-Dumpty.

Don't you buy that diagnosis of Hong-Kong flu when the doctor sends you to bed.

Brother, that's Russian trots! Nobody but a subversive would use pills for psychological warfare, instead of bullets.

And I still feel wretched!

School Board
Members Set
State Meeting

Newly elected school board members from throughout Kentucky will meet in Louisville on January 19 and 20 for the 1969 Orientation Conference for New School Board Members.

The conference, sponsored by the Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA) and the State Department of Education, is designed to acquaint new board members with their duties and responsibilities in the management and operation of Kentucky's public schools.

Offered to the more than 200 board members elected in the November general election and taking office this month will be workshops in the areas of:

- School law.
 - School finance.
 - Communications and personnel relations.
 - Local-state-federal relations.
- KSBA President M. H. Ryan, of Murray, will welcome conference participants to the opening general session on the evening of Jan. 19, and Elizabethtown attorney J. T. Hatcher, former KSBA president, will outline the problems facing new board members.

Also at the opening session, board member William R. Black and Supt. Newman Walker, both of Paducah, will speak on the functions of the local school board and the local school superintendent.

Leading off the second day's schedule will be addresses by Mitchell Davis, vice chairman of the State Board of Education, and KSBA Executive Director Maurice D. Bement. Afterwards, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler will speak at the conference luncheon.

Also appearing on the program will be officers of KSBA and the State Department of Education, along with veteran school board members and superintendents from across the state.

Gene Hatfield Named
School Board Head

At the regular School Board meeting of the Fulton System, Gene Hatfield was re-elected chairman of the local board and Rodney Miller was elected vice-chairman, both for two years.

Dr. R. T. Peterson and Bobby Seates will attend the orientation conference for new school board members, which will be held in the Kentucky Hotel at Louisville on January 19 and 20.

WATER DISTRICT—

line after construction. Communities which desire pipelines laid to their area must petition the board of directors. Jack Austin is the chairman of the board, Dewey Johnson is the secretary, and Arlie Batts, David Dean and Elmer Hixson are members. A prime consideration for the laying of new pipeline is its economic feasibility. There must be an average of four tap-ins per mile for a substantial number of miles, and the total cost must not exceed the combined local and federal monies. Bondurant said that although most of the route lines have been planned by the engineer, Jim Huff, "there is still some latitude for change."

The water district has entered into a contract with Fulton City to furnish the water at the same rate the city charges its commercial customers. Any change of rates is subject to a preliminary hearing before the Kentucky Public Service Commission.

First efforts to establish the water district were made in May 1962. At that time efforts were put forth to include all of Fulton County in one water district. The cost of this, $1.5 million, was considered too much money by EDA authorities. The county was then divided into two water districts, the Southwestern Kentucky Water District and the Montgomery School Water District, with the money going to the Southwestern Water District.

One of the reasons for the money going to the Southwestern District was the lack of interest in the western part of the county. Some have attributed this lack of interest to the fact that owners of the land where the pipes would be laid live in Hickman City, where there already are public water facilities. However, the Montgomery School Water District Board, Harry Barry chairman, is reportedly moving forward with the district plans.

Many benefits will result from the creation of the water district. The water will be more germ free, and will help provide better fire protection. The water will also be softer and cleaner.

The feelings of Viola Aldridge of Cayce pretty well sum up the feelings of many of the people who will benefit from the water program. She said, "It's a pretty nice thing. I reckon we need it."

Watchtower Meeting Here Labor
Of Love For Popular Mr. Clark

Raymond Clark is the presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Much of his time is spent making door to door visits in his preaching and teaching activity as a minister. He is also active in helping other ministers to become more effective in their ministry, going from house to house with them as they endeavor to teach others Bible truth and get a better understanding of the Bible. So that he could be even more efficient in this work and the ministry, Clark attended Jehovah's Witnesses Kingdom Ministry School in June, 1964. This school was held in South Lansing, New York and was a one month course of specialized training and Bible study for the presiding ministers of the many congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses. Clark says that this school was very beneficial to him in his endeavor to show love of God and fellow man.

Not only is Clark known in South Fulton as a minister but as mentioned above he is very active in serving the people here in another way. He has seen this city grow progressively and has contributed to this through many building projects to bring commercial industry into South Fulton.

When announced in this paper several days ago that South Fulton would host Jehovah's Witnesses three day convention to be held January 17-19 at the South Fulton High School, Clark has been very busy working with those that the Watchtower Society has appointed to oversee the convention organization.

"Plans are complete for the convention," Clark said, "and the program will be very interesting to Jehovah's Witnesses and anyone who is interested in learning Bible truths." Those in attendance at the opening session, 6:45 p. m. Friday, will hear N. Kovalak, Jr., District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, discuss the theme of the assembly, "Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News." This will be followed by a model of two of the five congregation meetings Jehovah's Witnesses hold each week, the Theocratic Ministry School and Service Meeting. K. B. Crist, Circuit Supervisor for the Witnesses in Middle and Northwestern Tennessee and Southwestern Kentucky, will oversee the Service Meeting. The highlight of the Saturday afternoon session will be at 1:30 p. m., when Mr. Kovalak will deliver the lecture "Dedication and Baptism" which will be followed by the baptism of new ministers. The Saturday evening session will provide instruction about the six month Bible study course that Jehovah's Witnesses offer free to anyone who is interested in learning Bible truths.

Clark said that the climax of the three days would be Sunday at 3:00 p. m., when Mr. Kovalak delivers the public lecture, "God's Way Is Love."

The closing session of the program will include a talk by Mr. Crist on "Moral Responsibilities of Parents and Youth" and Mr. Kovalak will again speak on the subject "Why So Much to Do?" Clark said that it would be in the public interest to attend sessions of the assembly and he extended an invitation to all citizens of the Fulton-South Fulton area to attend this assembly. There is no admission charge nor will collections be taken during the three days.

WATCHTOWER—

signed to oversee the congregations of Tennessee and Southwestern Kentucky. He will also be in charge of the last portion of the Friday evening session of the assembly being held here and will again speak Sunday afternoon on the subject "Moral Responsibilities of Parents and Youth."

For the reminder of this week both Mr. Kovalak and Mr. Crist will join the local ministers in calling on residents of Fulton and South Fulton encouraging Bible study and inviting them to attend the sessions of the assembly at the South Fulton High School, January 17-19.

Suspect Posts
$10,000 Bond

A Hopkinsville Negro, the second man arrested in connection with the pistol slaying of Fulton liquor store owner L. C. "Doc" Adams, has been released under $10,000 bond.

The sheriff's office at Hickman said Gifford A. Grubbs, 29, has been charged with aiding and abetting James Poindexter, 29, also a Hopkinsville Negro, who is charged with murder in the case.

Poindexter is being held for the Fulton County Grand Jury without bond. He was arrested in Chicago several days following the death of Mr. Adams.

ing as a nurse in the office of Dr. Richard H. White in Hickman for about 2 years. I live on Middle Road about 5 miles from Fulton. I am a member of the Liberty Baptist Church.

If elected to the office of Sheriff I promise you that I will devote my time to that office, and I will employ competent deputies who will serve you. Our services will be available to you for twenty-four hours of every day, and you will be served competently and courteously.

I hope to see each of you so that you may ask any questions that you would like to ask about my intentions towards the office, and don't hesitate to ask such questions.

To any Fulton Countian that I may not see, please don't think that I didn't want to see you and talk to you. The county is large as you all know, but with the help of all of you I WILL get to know you, and you will find me, I hope, capable of being Sheriff of Fulton County.

THIEVES FOILED

A Fulton County deputy sheriff, making a regular inspection round, surprised thieves at Fulton County High School last Sunday night as they attempted to break open a safe. They fled empty-handed when he went to call for help.

WAR ON POVERTY—

officially appeared on the membership list, although her name was never voted on in the November meeting, where she did not have a vote. Where attempts to seat representatives of the poor prior to Arnett's election had been "side-stepped" by Chairman E. H. Padgett, the Hickman County judge appeared anxious at the December meeting to get more representatives of the poor on the board.

Arnett's qualifications are dubious for the job of director. A 66-year-old native of Ballard County, Arnett had been a picture frame salesman previous to his job with the poverty program. When the program was first looking for a director early in 1967, Washington OEO officials turned down Arnett's application to fill the job. Arnett, however, had been able to attain the job as assistant director. In March 1968 Arnett was placed on probation because of his inability to do his job. His job with the program was only saved, according to Michael Shapiro, by political intercession. Arnett, however, was demoted to the position of administrative assistant.

A check of the program's activities since Arnett took over as interim director and later as director reveals a steady decline. A $300,000 cooperative housing program worked out by Shapiro for Clinton and Fulton City has appeared to have faded under Arnett's leadership. The only word that has been received from the Poverty office is that the construction for the Clinton project has been put off several months, with no mention of the fate of the Fulton project. Likewise, promises of a $40,000 on-the-job training program and a work program for the elderly (Green Thumb) have failed to materialize. Arnett also failed in setting up a TV High School program for those who want to get their high school diplomas. The Head Start grant application was submitted a month late to Washington. There are also no job-training programs, which have been set up, although the agency has a man power specialist whose salary is $10,000 a year.

The programs which are operating are six day-care centers, adult basic education classes, and an elderly loan program. All of these programs were established before Arnett became interim director. The VISTAS, with the help of their director, Lappin, run the day care program. The adult basic education classes are run by the State Education Department. There has been some criticism of the poverty program for not providing transportation for many who have not been able to attend classes for this reason.

Arnett cited the reasons for his failure being the general lack of government funds for poverty programs. He has often referred to the unfriendly mood of the Congress.

Singleton presented his topic "How We Elect Our President," Monday, Jan. 13, in Wisdom Parlor of Jones Hall at 7:30 p. m. The public was invited.

He discussed the system of the electoral college and its effect on the political process. This included a brief historical resume of the electoral college, suggestions which have been made to change the college, and the possible effects of changes upon the political process.

The nominating system which is involved in the entire process was discussed.

Singleton, a 1969 candidate for a Ph.D. degree from Texas Technological College, received his B. A. in government from Texas Tech and his M. A. degree from Sal Ross State College.

A member of the American Political Science Association, Singleton, has contributed articles in the publication, "Proceedings of the Oklahoma Academy of Science."

All-Kentucky-City selections will be announced January 28 at an Awards Luncheon at the Brown Hotel in Louisville. This program, now in its 16th year, is conducted under the auspices of the Community Development Committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

More than 75 entries were submitted by communities across Kentucky again in 1968. From the entries district and state winners were selected. The final judging was by a panel comprised of out-of-state judges active in community development work. The Opportunity for Progress program is headed by Dan Stewart of Lexington, chairman of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development committee.

Delegations of cities entering the contest will attend the luncheon program from throughout Kentucky.

Second Suspect Is Apprehended In Fulton Slaying

By OUIDA JEWELL
Sun-Democrat Correspondent
FULTON, Ky., —A second arrest has been made in connection with the pistol slaying of L. C. (Doc) Adams, owner of the Smoke House Liquor Store in Fulton on Wednesday night, Nov. 20.

Gifford A. Grubbs, a 29-year-old Hopkinsville man has been arrested by Kentucky State Detective Hugh Page and has been held in the Fulton County jail at Hickman on a charge of aiding and abetting James Poindexter.

Poindexter was arrested in Chicago and has been charged in the murder of the local liquor store owner.

Page, who made the arrest Thursday said "the investigation of the case is not complete."

The Fulton County grand jury is scheduled to hear evidence in the Poindexter case on Tuesday, Jan. 28.

The three-week term of Fulton Circuit Court opens Jan. 27.

Adams, who was shot to death at the Smoke House, lived only a few minutes after the fatal shot was fired, but called Fulton police saying, "I've been shot." The call was received at 10:50 p.m. Nov. 20. He was shot one time through the left shoulder, the bullet severing an artery, and died a few minutes after the officers arrived at the scene.

Officers picked up the trail when a car stained with blood and with a bullet hole was found abandoned in Graves County near Lynville the morning after the fatal shooting.

Teachers Want Big Pay Hike

LOUISVILLE, Ky., —A two-year teachers' pay package costing the state more than $100 million was the major proposal to come from a meeting of the Kentucky Education Association here Saturday.

The teachers were meeting to compile a list of proposals for the 1970 legislature to cover the school years 1970-71 and 1971-72. The salary proposal is aimed at salary allotments paid by the state to local school districts, rather than salaries paid by the local districts to teachers.

If the proposals were implemented, local districts would be getting from about $1,500 to $3,900 more per teacher from the state by 1971-72 than they get now, and from about $1,400 to $3,250 more than they will be getting next year.

The smaller allotments would be paid for teachers with only a bachelor's degree and little or no experience, while the larger ones would be paid for teachers with maximum education and experience.

Delegates also voted Saturday to seek legislation removing the "freeze" on local school tax rates. The restriction was imposed by the 1965 legislature in special session after a Court of Appeals ruling requiring 100 per cent assessment of property.

The teachers also approved proposals which would give them a greater voice in matters of teacher training and teacher certification. They also requested legislation which would remove barriers at the state level to certain fringe benefits.

Hickman County Tops Murray

CLINTON, Ky. — The Hickman County Falcons outpointed Murray's Tigers 8-4 in a three-minute overtime period to provide the host Falcons with a 72-68 First Region basketball triumph here Friday night.

The Falcons, 15-1 on the season, were forced to come from behind before the home crowd. Trailing 17-12 after the first eight minutes and 37-30 at half-time, the Big Red blasted the Tigers 17-5 in the third frame to vault into the lead, 47-42.

Hickman County managed only 17 points in the final eight minutes, however, while the Murray five dumped in 22 to send the game into overtime.

Murray scored first in the extra frame, but a field goal and two free throws gave the Falcons a lead they were able to protect in the fading minutes of play.

Four Falcons hit in double figures with senior 6-2 forward Alan Barclay taking top honors with 22 points. Terry Fuller followed with 17, Fay Jordan bucketed 12 and James Crume accounted for 11.

Allen Hudspeth, the Tigers' 6-1 junior forward, ripped the Murray nets for 25 points, Pat Lamb followed with 18 and Albert Scott cashed in 12.

The Falcons hit 26 of 37 free throws while the Tigers managed only 16 of 33. Murray had 26 field goals to only 23 for Hickman, but the charity tosses decided the issue.

COACH TO PLAYER — Paducah Tilghman head football coach Ralph Colby congratulates Tornado star Don Harriford upon his signing.

Furgerson Pleased With Signing Of Don Harriford

By JERRY ATKINS

Sun-Democrat Sports Editor
"He's what we want! He's the best football player on an area team."

So said Coach Bill Furgerson, head football coach at Murray State University after landing Paducah Tilghman's Don Harriford. The standing defensive and offensive star for the Tornado signed a grant-in-aid with Furgerson's Racers Friday.

"We think he'll fit into what we want to do defensively," Furgerson said, indicating he plans to use Harriford at defensive safety. "He has had excellent coaching and is basically sound fundamentally. In another year or so, we expect another Tilghman boy to be playing safety for us."

Furgerson was relating to the loss of former Tilghman star Don Veatch who operated in the Racers secondary this year. Veatch, a senior at MSU, was an outstanding performer for the Racers. Harriford's arrival will keep a Tilghman player in a Thoroughbred uniform.

"If we can continue to play as well as we have, and can get boys of this caliber, we will continue to have a program that's representative for this school," Furgerson added.

Harriford, a 6-foot, 180-pounder, was contacted by many area colleges and universities. He selected Murray not only because of its fast improving athletic program, but for academic reasons also.

"I talked with (Tilghman teachers) Mr. Major (Jim), and Mr. Cissell (Charles) and they both spoke highly of the Murray Science department," Harriford said. "I had the opportunity to visit it and was impressed with the new equipment... especially in nuclear physics."

The Tilghman star was also impressed with the athletic program. "They have a tremendous football program," he said. "I definitely think Murray is the upcoming team in the OVC... and with that new stadium..."

Murray plans a new grid stadium, to be completed by the 1970 season.

Harriford, also an outstanding performer on the PTHS track team, plans to continue participation in the Murray program. The current state champion in pole vault competition will perform in both the pole vault and triple jump field events.

Harriford was a mainstay on the 1968 Tilghman defensive unit, leading the team in total contacts with 165 — a new school record. He was credited with 85 first contacts and 80 assists while playing in 11 of Tilghman's 12 games. He missed the opening game with a leg injury.

The old mark of 144 contacts was set a year earlier by Sylvester Ridgeway during a 10-game schedule.

Coach Ralph Colby of the Tornado praised Harriford's accomplishments on the grid field. "I think it's a credit to this young man who was undecided when he came to us as a sophomore. He didn't accomplish much in his sophomore year, until spring practice."

"As a junior, he was not a starter as the season opened," Colby continued. "He played the last quarter in the second game at Owensboro, then made the starting unit the next week in practice, and was a starter ever since."

Harriford started the 1968 season as a defensive specialist at safety, but moved into the offensive wingback position because of injuries to other players. Later in the season, he moved from defensive safety to linebacker to help plug another gap created by injuries.

Offensively, he scored four touchdowns, passed for two others and kicked a 31-yard field goal. In addition, Harriford was the Tornado's kickoff and extra point performer.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Harriford of 422 Murrell Blvd. in Paducah.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis (Wick) Smith of Fulton.

FULTON, Ky. — Mrs.

Gerald Powell of Fulton Rt. 4 suffered a concussion in a three-car accident Thursday on the East State Line just outside Fulton.

She is in satisfactory condition at the Hillview Hospital, and her sons, Chris, five, and Craig, two, suffered minor injuries.

Rubinoff's Performance Recalls An Earlier Day

By JEAN MORGAN
Sun-Democrat Staff Writer

It was a return to the old days when radio was a main source of home entertainment as Dave Rubinoff stood before his microphone in the Tilghman High School auditorium Tuesday night.

The exquisite tonal qualities of the Stradivarius and Rubinoff's flawless technique contrived an evening of pure nostalgia for older people and a new and surprising experience for the younger listeners. At the end of the program, Rubinoff received a standing ovation from young and old alike.

If the recorded accompaniments were a sharp surprise at the beginning, the realization that this was an old master of radio production soon accommodated the audience to the method and nothing mattered except the 71-year-old artist and the gorgeous sounds he produced against his chosen background.

Rubinoff proved that his magic had not changed, especially in his nearly perfect playing of "The Sound of Music" and of his own jazz violin piece, "Fiddlin' the Fiddle." In the "Sound of Music" he established a close rapport with his audience.

It was an extraordinary performance by a master of his own element—a warm and moving experience for the middle-aged and a taste of true virtuosity for the young.

Rubinoff played at two junior high schools and at Tilghman during the morning and enjoyed a great success among the youngsters.

At noon he was the guest of the Lions Club where he performed what he claimed was a "first" in his career.

Mrs. Martha McCaskill has played the piano for Lions Club meetings for 21 years, for the Rotary Club for 10 years and for the Kiwanis Club for about 12 years. Rubinoff invited her to play with him unrehearsed, a thing he said he had never done before. He was complimentary of her ability.

Influenza Sends Everett Back To VA Hospital

Obviously disappointed at his inability to shake off a case of influenza, Representative Robert A. Everett has returned to Veterans Hospital in Nashville for further treatment and a number of tests.

While he could have been treated in Washington, Mr. Everett said he preferred to return to Nashville "where I could at least talk to some of my friends."

Mr. Everett arrived in Washington more than a week ago and planned to remain at his office. He developed the flu, however, and it persisted to the extent that doctors, looking at his recent serious kidney ailment, advised hospitalization and a series of tests.

"So I came back home where everyone has been so nice to me," the Eighth District congressman said. Mr. Everett said he did not know how long he will be hospitalized but added that he hopes he can go back to the nation's capital soon and "get back on the job."

Life-Saving Medicine

Flown To Cuba

MAMI Potentially life-saving medicine for a 5-year-old girl stricken with leukemia was to be shipped to Cuba today aboard a regularly scheduled Freedom Flight normally used to bring Cuban refugees to Miami.

The medicine, developed at St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, has eliminated leukemia symptoms in 21 of 24 children to whom it has been administered.

Today's mercy flight was arranged through the efforts of Miami Radio Station WQAM, which received a telegram Dec. 28 from Dr. Hugo Beniget of Havana the father of the stricken girl.

Earlier shipments of the medicine were delayed because of bans on goods shipped from the United States to Cuba. The U.S. State Department said Thursday Cuban authorities had agreed to admit the medicine, and arrangements were made to put it on the flight.

Nunn Plans Narcotics Conference

FRANKFORT, Ky. Citing a "definite narcotics problem" in Kentucky, Gov. Louie B. Nunn has announced the first Governor's Seminar on Drug Abuse, to be held here Jan. 27, 28 and 29.

"The Kentucky Bureau of Investigation has reported a statewide increase in traffic in marijuana," Nunn said Thursday. "The arrests last year of 30 youths in Clark County for illegal possession of marijuana and other illegal drugs was a manifestation of this growing problem."

The governor noted a 134 per cent increase in narcotics arrests last year in Louisville.

The first day-long seminar will be for educators, guidance counselors and secondary school and college administrators.

The second will be for state juvenile, health and welfare workers and the third for state and local law enforcement officers.

They are sponsored jointly by the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy and the departments of Health, Mental Health, Child Welfare and Public Safety.

Reception For Tennesseans Who Attend Inauguration

Tennesseans attending Inaugural Day ceremonies in Washington next January 20 are invited to attend an Open House sponsored by the Tennessee State Society, James P. Bass, president of the Tennessee State Society, and Representative Joe L. Evins, dean of the Tennessee House delegation, co-hosts for the event.

The Open House will be in the Hearing Room of the Small Business Committee, 2359 Rayburn House Office Building, from noon to mid-afternoon. Representative Evins is chairman of the Small Business Committee.

Evins and Bass said the Open House will include a hearty "welcome back" to Rep. Robert A. Everett of the Eighth Congressional District who is returning to his duties in the Congress.

"We are hopeful that many Tennesseans will come to Washington for the Inauguration," Bass said, "and we want every one of them to stop by our Open House so that we may greet them and welcome them."

Membership in the Tennessee State Society is not a requirement for attending the Open House but Bass said new members will be welcome. "Many Tennesseans maintain their membership in our society and attend our meetings and receptions from time to time when they are in Washington," he said. Annual membership dues are $3 for individuals and $5 for couples.

Building Plan Draws Approval

General approval for construction of a new municipal building to be located in Kiwanis Kiddie Park was given Wednesday night at the Baltimore by four city boards and the City Council will meet next week in special session to consider final action on the project.

Reporting to the city board, after a three-day study of the needs of Union City for such a structure, was Claude Armour, Special Assistant to Gov. Ellington on Law and Order.

At the meeting were members of the City Council, the Citizens Advisory Committee, the Union City Electric Power Board, the Union City Municipal-Regional Planning Commission and city manager David Frizzell.

Following approval voiced by the four groups, Mayor Charles "Red" Adams said that in his opinion "the project is a must. I think we must proceed without delay to provide adequate facilities for our city's governmental operations."

He set the special meeting for next Tuesday night to consider final action and a method of selecting an architect to design the facility.

Briefly, the new structure, which would feature four fronts, would contain 30,535 square feet and would house the city hall, the police and fire departments and a collection office for the Union City Electric System.

Already $425,000 is available for the project. Of this amount, $325,000 was made available through the recent bond issue which set aside $250,000 for a fire and police safety building and $75,000 for the renovation of the present city hall. In addition, the city has $100,000 on deposit which was earmarked seven years ago for a municipal building. This money was the balance due from the change over of the electric system from a city-owned to a TVA distributor-operated facility.

In his studies of the city, Mr. Armour said he had considered a number of locations but indicated that all but the Kiddie Park area had been eliminated because of certain inadequacies.

The Turner Field site, he said, was eliminated because of its location while the public works building on North Second Street was dropped because of the shape and size of the property. He said also two other central business district locations were bypassed because of size and accessibility.

Mr. Armour said the only desirable site was the Kiddie Park and recommended that the building be located on the site so that there would be a 100-foot green expanse south of Church Street which would run the entire width of the park. He also located the building so there would be 20-foot green strips on the east and west and a 10-foot strip on the south side to separate it from the parking lot.

Representatives of the Planning Commission told the group that a similar plan was recommended by the Regional Planning Commission more than two years ago. They said the Commission heartily endorsed the plan and urged that work begin immediately toward employing an architect.

Likewise Parnell Landers, of the State Planning Commission, said the project is similar to one prepared by the commission which was submitted to City Council in November.

It is interesting to note here that Mr. Armour was not given access to these two plans, which had previously been submitted, but through his studies came up with an almost identical proposal.

Roosevelt Bowers, of the Citizens Advisory Committee, speaking in favor of the project, said if Union City is to continue to progress the municipal building "is a necessity and should be constructed without delay."

Members of the Electric Board, while favoring the project, said they did not know to what extent the electric system could participate without first contacting TVA. They said, however, that as a minimum participation, the system probably could locate a collection office in the structure.

The city hall portion of the municipal building would be located on the north with an entrance on Church Street and would occupy 8,432 square feet.

The Fire Department would occupy 9,900 square feet and be located on the east side with an entrance on Park Street while the Police Department, with 3,696 feet, would be located on the south (parking lot side) with a private drive constructed to serve its needs.

Offices for the electric system, the school superintendent, the tax assessor and an equipment room would occupy 3,564 square feet on the west side, with entrance on Depot Street.

The balance of the footage would be in halls, a foyer on the Church Street side and service areas.

While the structure would be built in such a way that the various departments would be separated in order to maintain their identity, halls would reach all departments from any of the four entrances.

The present parking lot spaces on the south, sold now on a monthly rental basis, would be utilized by city hall employees and private parking for persons having business in the municipal building.

PLANNERS AT WORK—Claude Armour (seated), Special Assistant to Gov. Ellington on Law and Order, puts the finishing touches to his plan for the proposed municipal building under the watchful eye of City Manager David Frizzell. At the request of the city, Mr. Armour spent three days here after which he recommended that the new structure be placed in the Kiwanis Kiddie Park. The plan, as presented by Mr. Armour, appears

Loan Program Is Helping Grain Growers

Freeman M. Hockensmith, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has reported farmers are making a concerted drive this year to strengthen grain prices through use of the nonrecourse price-support loan program.

Hockensmith referred to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures which revealed that farmers, as of Oct. 31, had placed nearly twice as much wheat under loan compared to the same date a year earlier. Interim price-support loan activity reports on other grains for which price-support loans are available show trends similar to that of wheat, he said.

Holding back on marketings is proper and desirable, the chairman pointed out. "It represents the intent of the farm program and shows that farmers are becoming increasingly aware of the need to spread their marketings over the entire crop year if they are to increase prices." Hockensmith explained that by using the nonrecourse loan, farmers get immediate cash and still retain ownership of their crop. This permits farmers to hold grain off the market and sell at a later date if prices improve from their usual harvest-time low. If prices do not improve, the producer surrenders title to the grain to satisfy the loan.

Carole Pigue Completes Her Wedding Plans

FULTON, Ky. — Miss Carole Ann Pigue, daughter of Mrs. Oliver N. Pigue of Fulton, is today revealing the completed plans for her marriage to Barry E. Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Roper of Fulton.

The double-ring ceremony will be solemnized at First United Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. George Comes, minister of the church, will officiate after a program of nuptial music by Mrs. L. C. Logan, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baar, vocalists.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Roger Pigue, of Harvey, Ill. She has chosen her sister, Mrs. Terry Outland, also of Harvey, as her matron of honor.

Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Charles Thomas Powell of Murray, and Miss Delores Dukes, college roommate of the bride, of Louisville.

Randall Roper will serve his brother as best man.

Groomsmen and ushers will be Tommy Powell of Murray; Jim Campbell of Memphis, Tenn.; Loyd Houseman of Louisville; Gaylon Varden of Fulton, and David Cosby, cousin of the groom, of Memphis.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the social room of the church.

Serving at the reception will be Mrs. Charles Winsett, Mrs. Grady Varden and Misses Betty Beadles, Mae Mann, Pearl Elks of Hickman, and Melva Dukes of Louisville. Miss Wanda Lemons, a former roommate of the bride, of Paris, Tenn., will preside at the register.

No invitations are being sent locally, but all friends and relatives are invited.

Rabbit's Kick Lands Man In Hospital

CHICAGO — A kick from a huge rabbit sent Donald Hargadon to a hospital Thursday.

Hargadon, a worker at Augustana Hospital, was trying to transport Jumbo, a male rabbit used for research, to the Lincoln Park Children's Zoo.

It kicked and scratched him. Hargadon went to the Augustana emergency room for treatment.

"The kick wasn't too much but it certainly hurt my pride," said Hargadon.

"If, in going down this incline, I gain four feet per second," asked the professor, "what will my condition be after 25?" "You'd be a centipede," replied his star pupil.

Set Training For 'Sitters'

Now and then, the family of a patient in Obion County General Hospital finds it impossible for one of the family members to sit with the patient when the nature of the patient's illness calls for a constant companion. While a neighbor or friend of the family may be willing to take over the chore, sometimes even one of these is not available. Sometimes the hospital is asked for help.

Mrs. Billie Dickerson, director of nursing services at the hospital, said that's when the hospital calls on a professional "sitter," a person who is paid to sit with a patient and occasionally perform non-medical services.

But even these people need some kind of training and the hospital has decided to provide it.

Two 20-hour classes for hospital sitters will be held during a two-week period beginning Jan. 20, Mrs. Dickerson said. The Monday-through-Friday classes will be held from 1 to 3 p. m. and from 3 to 5 p. m., the second session each day to be a repeat of the first.

After the final class is held on Friday, Jan. 31, only sitters who complete the course will be called on to sit with patients, Mrs. Dickerson emphasized.

The instructional programs will be held in the first floor, nursing home classroom.

Persons desiring to enroll are urged to telephone Mrs. Pat McIntosh at the hospital from 8 a. m. until 3 p. m. Monday, Jan. 13, Thursday, Jan. 16, or Friday, Jan. 17.
